

Project 2 UI Plan

The parts of my website that will be interactive are the pop-out contact form, the sticky navigation, and the mobile hamburger menu. For the pop-out contact form, the user will click the join now button and a contact form will appear and then they can click the X to make it disappear again. The sticky navigation will simply follow the user down the page and the user will interact with the hamburger menu the way they interact with any navigation. The API I am using is from datamuse.com. It is a word generator based off of the synonyms of a pre-selected word. The API will be displayed in the header. Every time the user refreshes they will see a different adjective.
